HOW TO SUCCEED.

"The people of Orangeburg pull together. And pulling together is rewarded with success." These two constitute the opening sentences of the report of the fall festival in progress this week at Orangeburg by the correspondent of the State newspaper. They are simple sentences, but they contain a truth which cannot be too strongly impressed upon any community. It was our pleasure to be at Orangeburg the day this report was sent in and we can endorse what the correspondent says of Orangeburg and the festival. Not only the men, but the women, too, were working together, and had spent their time and their money to make the affair a success and they are now realizing the fruits of their labor. The mayor is a live and progressive citizen and so is the chairman of the chamber of commerce. They are public spirited and are willing to do something for their town and their community even if they do not see dollars dropping back into their pockets immediately as a result of their labors. In other words they are willing to do something for the general welfare and to reap their reward in the general good which comes to their town and their community, and by such acts on the part of public spirited men, and only by having such men, can a town hope to keep up with the procession and be in reality a progressive town.

We have observed a good many towns and our conclusion is that as a rule a town keeps pace with the march of progress in the same proportion as its mayor and city authorities are progressive and public spirited. It sometimes happens that a town will go ahead in spite of the heads of the town, but that is the exception.

It was inspiring to see how the mayor and the chairman of the chamber of commerce worked together at Orangeburg and how the citizens co-operated with them. The floral parade was one of the prettiest we ever saw and the city was overwhelmed with visitors.

The point we desire to make is that no town can prosper and grow unless all the heads of departments and organizations work together for its advancement and then they must have the co-operation and support of the people.

There should be business rivalry and competition, but there should be no jealousy and selfishness. We have to work for the public good sometimes and get our compensation indirectly by helping the whole community.

No man has a right to take or accept a position of trust in a town if he is going to be constantly a stumbling block to the progress and prosperity of the town and the community.

We want to see Newberry pull together and work for the advancement of the community. We have been moving along very nicely and have several manufacturing establishments and all doing well but we do need a little more co-operation.

The report that the Newberry court was adjourned because a point would be raised as to Judge Buchanan's residence was incorrect. The bar association asked that the adjournment be had because there were no cases ready for trial. The statement was believed because two different correspondents sent identical dispatches, but Colonel Schumpert declares they were utterly wrong. Judge Buchanan still has his residence in Sumter, and as a consequence there can be no question about his qualification to preside.—Columbia Record.

The two dispatches to the daily papers in regard to this matter were not "identical," Colonel Schumpert has not declared they were "utterly wrong," and to the best of our knowledge Judge Buchanan now lives in Winnsboro, and has not lived in Sumter for the past several months. Upon what does the editor of the Record base his statements? The only statement which Colonel Schumpert, or any other member of the Newberry Bar, has denied, is that there was a consultation with Judge Buchanan in regard to the matter. This statement appeared in the correspondence of the State, and not in the News and Courier. There has been no denial whatever of the fact that, in the opinion of the Newberry Bar, Judge Buchanan is not qualified to hold court, and that this was, in reality, the reason for calling off the term. We did not care to publish the fact of non residence and agreed to say nothing about it until we learned it was going to be printed elsewhere. The constitution requires continued residence in the circuit by the judge of the circuit. The information the Newberry Bar gave out was that court was called off because all the cases were continued, but it is not denied that the residence of Judge Buchanan had its influence in calling off the court because it is possible the question would have been raised if the court had gone on.

This much in justice to the correspondents.

The new house of representatives will have a Republican majority of about twenty-five. Perhaps it is just as well that the Republicans have a majority and will be held responsible for legislation.—Spartanburg Herald.

The editor of the Spartanburg Herald is a philosopher. Pity 'tis that all men can not look at things the same way in defeat.

COUNTY TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION.

Interesting and Instructive Address by Hon. O. B. Martin—Election of Officers and Other Matters.

The first regular meeting of the County Teachers' Association of Newberry County, for the term of 1902-'03, was held in the Boundary street graded school building Saturday morning. The meeting was very well attended, notwithstanding the threatening weather, and the fact that a number of the schools had not begun work. There were twenty-six teachers present, and the interest manifested by these in the work of the association and in the matter of the uplifting of our educational system, was indeed very encouraging.

The meeting was opened with appropriate remarks by Prof. B. H. Johnston, superintendent of the Newberry graded schools, and retiring president of the association.

The first matter to be considered was the election of officers. Mr. Eugene S. Werts, the efficient and popular superintendent of education, was unanimously elected president. Prof. B. H. Johnston was chosen vice president, and Miss Gertrude Simpson secretary. The executive committee, who have in charge the supervision and assignment of work to the different teachers, will consist of the president and Prof. S. J. Derrick and E. O. Counts.

The association was fortunate in having with it at this meeting Hon. O. B. Martin, the next State Superintendent of Education. In a scholarly and forceful manner he addressed the association on the important subject of "Teacher, Method, and Matter." Mr. Martin spoke at some length on each topic, showing the necessity of having wide-awake teachers in each school, teachers who are willing, and who are capable of doing good work, and showing that the future advancement of educational interests, and the general uplifting of our common school system, must come largely through the combined efforts of those who have our schools in charge. Taking up the subject of "methods," in an interesting way he showed to the association the necessity of using different methods in different ways for different pupils. His remarks along this line were very instructive and beneficial to all present, especially to those who have never taught, or to those who have been teaching for only a short while. Discussing "subject matter," Prof. Martin brought out the thought that never before has there been such a yearning for knowledge, never before have there been such opportunities for growth, as at now, and while many truths have been established, still there is much to learn, and only from the best authorities and by the most diligent research can any knowledge whatever of the branches entrusted to the teachers' care be gained. The subject matter should be studied diligently in order that it may be taught well.

Mrs. Herbert was introduced to the association and read an interesting paper on "Scientific Temperance Instruction," showing the importance of teaching such a branch in the public schools, and the practical benefit to be derived from it. The teachers are required by law to use text books on the laws of health, but they have in a large manner neglected them, and Mrs. Herbert is interesting herself in the advancement of this work in the schools. Her remarks received close attention and the impression she made will no doubt result in future good.

I would urge upon all the teachers of Newberry County the great importance of attending these meetings, in order that they may consult with one another, exchange views, and in this way obtain new ideas that will be helpful to them in the prosecution of their profession.

The next regular meeting will be held on Saturday, the 13th day of December.

Geo. H. Ligon,
Acting Secretary.

A Flour of Quality.

No flour sold in Newberry matches the "Clifton" in purity and quality. The wealth of rich gluten contained in this flour makes sweet, wholesome bread of a nutty flavor. L. W. Cosby, Hayes & McCarty and E. R. Hipp have it.
